

The discovery screen is default upon login, and the user can page over to the other tabs.

Discovery and TuneFull feed screens are similar, but have different lists of clips (all and friends/follows, respectively.)

Clicking on the new clip button from any screen opens a screen with the user's liked tracks. Upon click of a track, they can listen to it, then pop up a dialog to create the clip from that track.

Selecting genre mood pops up a dialog. Selecting my clips pops up a clip screen, similar to the discovery or feed screens. Selecting friend requests or friends/follows takes the user to a screen similar to below.
